

Curriculum Training for Administrators

“The future ain’t what it used to be.”
Yogi Berra

Common Core Standards and MSIP 5 will demand higher achievement targets than ever before. If students are to reach these goals, building level administrators will have to support the development and implementation of a written curriculum that engages students at deeper levels of understanding.

This workshop will provide administrators with information regarding the elements of effective curriculum, including:

- Changes necessary to meet Common Core State Standards
- Assessment – formative and summative
- Higher level learning activities for enduring understandings
- Gradual Release of Information as an instruction strategy
- Data to support reinforcement/change
- The importance of being a ‘learning leader’
