

Concentrate on Coaching

Professional Learning for K-12 Literacy Coaches

REGISTER
TODAY!

Join us for a day of learning and networking as we learn how to coach teachers in achieving their personal best in classroom routines and the planning and executing of effective literacy instruction. We all know the research around literacy education, and for those of you that coach teachers, your skill in the ability to teach, lead and influence teachers is of prime importance. Our day will include:

- Overall review of necessary coaching skills
- Five researched areas of effective instruction
- Observation and feedback as a coach
- The difference between influence and authority. This workshop will include opportunities for literacy instructional coaches to receive professional learning around their specific job responsibilities

Instructors: Debbie Jameson, Candice Robb

Professional Learning: Show-Me Curriculum Administrator's Association (SMCAA)

Cost: $50 per person

Thursday, June 9, 2022

8:30 am - 3:30 pm

MOREnet Conference Room

Stadium Shoppes

221 N. Stadium Blvd, Suite 201

Columbia, MO 65203

<https://mizzou.us/literacy-coaches>

SMCAA Presenters:

Dr. Janie Pyle, Professional Learning Coordinator, has been dedicated to the work of advancing the teaching profession for the last 39 years. Her focused expertise includes educational leadership and management of the educational process, curriculum review and standardization, effective instruction and coaching, and teacher retention through teacher leadership and motivation.

Roblyn Melton, Director of Programs, has been focused on improving student achievement through teaching, curriculum, instruction, and assessment work for the last 35 years. Her expertise includes curriculum development and implementation, assessment development, and instructional planning.

 Heart of Missouri
Regional Professional
Development Center
University of Missouri

Contact

Debbie Jameson, Improvement Consultant
573-231-1171 • jamesondd@missouri.edu

Candice Robb, Improvement Consultant
870-565-2701 • candice.robb@missouri.edu