

A Deeper Look into Student Engagement

This updated webinar takes information gathered from feedback provided from participants at the “Instructional Strategies to Increase Student Engagement” webinars and goes into a deeper look at student engagement itself. During this workshop, we will revisit and take a deeper look into the various forms of student engagements, the relationship between motivation and engagement, what it looks like, the role of teacher clarity, and more! Join us as we take a look at the science behind student engagement and dis-engagement and how this plays a role in how we should go about implementing various instructional strategies.
